44th ANNUAL MEDICAL- SCIENTIFIC CONFERENCE
APRIL 25-28, 2013 | CHICAGO, ILLNOIS

Join the largest gathering of physicians, nurses, psychologists, counselors and health care professionals dedicated to the treatment, education, research and prevention of addiction.

ASAM's 44th Annual Medical-Scientific Conference qualifies for a maximum of 21 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)[™]

PRELIMINARY PROGRAM

New Treatments in Addiction Medicine

The multi-faceted nature of addiction—its genesis, impact and treatment—demands knowledge and expertise in a variety of disciplines and approaches. Continuous assessment, monitoring and modification of treatment are necessary as the patient journeys from active addiction to life-long recovery. New developments provide those who diagnose and treat addiction with a promising array of tools to apply to each complex situation.

This year, ASAM's 44th Annual Medical-Scientific Conference has assembled a broad range of timely topics and powerful presenters to explore, "New Treatments in Addiction Medicine."

ASAM welcomes everyone to learn about the latest developments in the field, to develop strong professional networks and to discover the newest treatments and techniques. Through engaging plenary sessions, insightful symposia, highly interactive workshops, paper and poster sessions, a celebratory awards program as well as an exhibit hall that is second-to-none, you will return from Med-Sci informed, inspired and empowered to address the needs of your patients and clients.

ASAM is thrilled to bring Med-Sci 2013 to Chicago—a world center of higher education, research and medical practice. Two of the country's premier academic medical centers reside in Chicago, including Northwestern Memorial Hospital and the University of Chicago Medical Center. This vibrant hub of learning and medical education and practice is the perfect location to explore the latest advances in addiction medicine.

In addition to its academic and professional standing, you'll find endless entertainment venues, shopping and dining within steps of our host hotel, the Hilton Chicago, located on South Michigan Avenue, with picturesque views of Grant Park and Lake Michigan. Hilton Chicago has been the Windy City's foremost address since 1927, yet it's state-of-the-art meeting facilities are ideal for the dynamic cutting-edge presentations you'll find at this year's Med-Sci conference.

Explore the latest developments. Engage leading experts and colleagues. Discover the latest treatments. Enjoy the city's environs. Empower and energize yourself.

Cooperating Organizations

National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism (NIAAA) and National Institute on Drug Abuse (NIDA) of the National Institutes of Health (NIH), and the Center for Substance Abuse Treatment (CSAT) of the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA).

PROGRAM

Thursday, April 25

2013 Ruth Fox Course for Physicians: Trauma and Addiction

8:00 am – 5:30 pm

The Ruth Fox Course for Physicians, dedicated to the Founding President of ASAM, provides practicing physicians with the current trends in the field of addiction medicine. This year's emphasis is on trauma and addiction. (See pages 6-7 for details.)

Pain & Addiction Course: Common Threads XIV — When Opiates Fail

8:00 am - 5:00 pm

In its fourteenth year, the Pain & Addiction Course utilizes multiple perspectives to investigate a particular aspect of addiction as it relates to pain management. This year's course will explore, "when opiates fail." The course will be organized into two sections:

Part I: Will present Risk Evaluation and Mitigation Strategy (REMS) education as it relates to ER/LA Opioid Analgesics.

Part II: Will cover a variety of responses to "when opiates fail." (See pages 8-9 for details.)

Welcome Reception & Exhibit Hall

6:00 - 8:00 pm

Reconnect with friends, meet new colleagues and explore over one hundred exhibits and posters in our largest exhibit hall to date.

Who Should Attend

- An ASAM member, nonmember physician, nurse, psychologist, counselor, student or other health care professional dedicated to increasing access and improving the quality of addiction treatment and care.
- A physician currently practicing in the field of addiction medicine and wanting to learn the latest scientific information available in addiction medicine.
- A practicing physician in primary care or another specialty field seeking to learn more about addiction medicine.
- An early-career physician, investigator, researcher or health care professional with a specialty in addiction medicine.
- A professional from a military background and/or diverse organization or population interested in learning more about addiction medicine.

Goals and Objectives

The over-arching goal of ASAM's 44th Annual Medical-Scientific Conference is to present the most up-to-date information, research, guidance and policy discussion for professionals in the addiction medicine field. To achieve this goal the following specific objectives have been identified:

- ✓ Present the best new scientific research, best practices, treatments, tools and modalities in all areas of addiction medicine.
- ✓ Bring science into practice by focusing on the latest developments in research and treatment and translating them into clinically useful knowledge.
- ✓ Present concise, interactive, case-based and/or creative teaching methods through a mix of symposia, courses, workshops, didactic lectures, and paper and poster presentations based on accepted abstracts.
- ✓ Encourage involvement of early-career professionals, military and diverse populations in the field of addiction medicine.
- ✓ Provide participants the opportunity to network and interact with experts in their fields.

At the conclusion of the conference, participants should be able to:

- ✓ Understand the current and new clinical approaches to treatment in various settings.
- ✓ Explore the issues to be addressed in treating individuals in diverse and special populations or with special physical, health and mental illnesses.
- ✓ Discuss the development of new science and treatments in addiction medicine.

HIGHLIGHTS

Friday, April 26

ASAM Business Meeting & Breakfast

7:00 - 8:30 am

Members of ASAM will begin the first full conference day with breakfast and attending to the business of the Society. Be sure to join ASAM's leadership to learn about the organization's plans for the future, to set policy and celebrate the year's accomplishments.

Networking in the Exhibit Hall

This year we have added two new opportunities to network with colleagues and friends throughout a full day of conference sessions. A complimentary buffet lunch and light appetizers and snacks will be served in the Exhibit Hall for an enjoyable day of networking.

Opening Scientific Plenary & R. Brinkley Smithers Distinguished Scientist Award and Lecture

8:30 am - 10:00 am

ASAM will honor Joseph Westermeyer, MD, PhD, MPH – this year's recipient of the R. Brinkley Smithers Distinguished Scientist Award. Dr. Westermeyer is being recognized for his continuing support of ASAM and his crucial role in guiding alcohol research in America. Following presentation of the Award, Dr. Westermeyer will deliver his lecture, "Symmetry and Asymmetry in Addiction Medicine: The Balance Between You, Your Patient, and Your Setting," in which he will argue that symmetry in clinician-patient and clinician-funder interactions supports patients' recoveries, while keeping the physician safe and sane.

As Professor of Psychiatry and Adjunct Professor of Anthropology at the University of Minnesota in Minneapolis, Dr. Westermeyer is also a staff psychiatrist and Medical Director of the Addictive Disorders Service at the Minneapolis VA Medical Center.

In addition to his clinical practice at the Minneapolis VA Hospital, Dr. Westermeyer maintains an active research program, focusing on cross-cultural mental health issues. He has published over 100 articles, and he currently is on the editorial boards of several journals. (See page 12 for details.)

PROGRAM

Saturday, April 27

Policy Plenary

8:00 am – 9:30 am

US Drug Crisis—The Addiction Treatment Gap

Keynote: H. Westley Clark, MD, JD, MPH, CAS, FASAM

Panelists: Scott Teitelbaum, MD, FAAP, FASAM; Mark Kraus, MD, FASAM; Kelly Clark, MD, MBA, DFAPA, FASAM; Stuart Gitlow, MD, MPH, MBA, FAPA; Michael Miller, MD, FASAM; Robert DuPont, MD, FASAM

H. Westley Clark, MD, JD, MPH, CAS, FASAM, will explore the Administration's efforts to address the addiction treatment gap in this country and the ways that physicians can work with federal partners like the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration to expand access to treatment. Dr. Clark and a panel of policy experts will also discuss the agency's efforts to expand access to treatment and the addiction treatment workforce, particularly in light of the expansion of benefits under the Affordable Care Act.

As Director of the Center for Substance Abuse Treatment, Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration, U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, he leads the agency's national effort to provide effective and accessible treatment to all Americans with addictive disorders. Dr. Clark is a noted author and educator in substance abuse treatment, anger and pain management, psychopharmacology, and medical and legal issues.

ASAM's Annual Public Policy Plenary explores federal and state public policies that affect the research, education, prevention and treatment efforts of addiction medicine practitioners. Attendees will gain a more intimate understanding of the practical implications of these policies on their work and on the lives of their colleagues, patients, and students. (See page 15 for details.)

Icons Key

The 44th Annual Medical-Scientific Conference has a wide range of sessions for basic, intermediate and advanced learners. In response to needs assessments, ASAM has specifically identified sessions that would be of particular interest and value for Military, Primary Care and/or Early Career Physicians.

Primary Care Sessions: A practicing physician in primary care or another specialty field who is interested in learning more about addiction medicine. Sessions that are marked with the PC icon identify sessions, papers or posters created with primary care physicians in mind. Application has been made to the American Association of Family Practitioners (AAFP) for credit.

HIGHLIGHTS

Saturday, April 27

Awards Luncheon

12:00 pm – 2:00 pm

Price: $65/Per Person

Celebrate the accomplishments of rising stars and distinguished leaders in the field of addiction medicine at the Annual ASAM Awards Luncheon. This plated luncheon is an opportunity to network with colleagues, draw inspiration from outstanding accomplishments and welcome new Diplomates, who have successfully passed the ABAM Examination of Certification in Addiction Medicine.

Nora Volkow, MD, recipient of the John P. McGovern Award, will address the gathering with the Lecture on Addiction and Society. Additional recognitions include: ASAM's Annual Awards, the 2013 Young Investigator Award, the ASAM Medical-Scientific Program Committee Award, the Public Policy Award, and the Annual Media Award. (See page 16 for details on award recipients.)

The ASAM Awards Luncheon is an extra fee event. Tickets for the luncheon are available for $65 per person. Please use the Registration Form to sign up for this event.

Sunday, April 28

Symposia Sunday

8:00 am - 12:15 pm

The conference on Sunday will wrap up with paper sessions, workshops, and symposia on "The Addiction Medicine/Primary Care Interface: Models of Integrated Care" and "International Perspectives on Addiction Medicine." There is also a component session on ABAM Certification and Preparation for the Cognitive Examination. Anyone wishing to sit for the ABAM Certification Exam in Addiction Medicine in 2014 will want to attend this course.

Early Career Sessions: A physician, investigator, researcher or health care professional, who is in the first few years of their profession and is interested in learning more about addiction medicine. Sessions that are marked with the  icon identify sessions, papers or posters created with early-career attendees in mind.

Military: A physician, investigator, researcher or health care professional, who a member of the military or works with military personnel or veterans and is interested in learning more about addiction medicine. Sessions that are marked with the  icon identify sessions, papers or posters created with military attendees in mind.

What's New in 2013 at Med-Sci

- ✓ Choose from the largest selection of sessions assembled to date.
- ✓ Engage nationally known experts in addiction medicine during highly interactive workshop sessions.
- ✓ Explore more creative and interactive sessions on new science, issues and topics with an expert faculty.
- ✓ Experience special outreach to early-career professionals, military and diverse populations.
- ✓ Access all Med-Sci sessions through the ASAM e-Live Learning Center available to all registrants.
- ✓ Enjoy a welcome reception for new members and other special events.
- ✓ Connect with colleagues at additional networking opportunities including a new complimentary networking luncheon and two evening networking receptions in the Exhibit Hall.
- ✓ Visit, learn and interact with over one hundred exhibitors and poster presenters, who will demonstrate the latest products and services to meet your needs.
- ✓ Discover the legendary Chicago downtown and Magnificent Mile.

Exhibits

ASAM Exhibit Hall is a vibrant hub for networking and exploring new and exciting products, services and information. Pre-Conference Course

2013 Ruth Fox Course for Physicians: Trauma & Addiction

Thursday, April 25, 8:00 am - 5:30 pm

The Ruth Fox Course for Physicians, dedicated to the memory of Founding President of ASAM, Ruth Fox, MD, began in 1980. Now in its 32nd year, the course has educated thousands of physicians, and is dedicated to providing practicing physicians with current trends in the field of addiction medicine. It offers new directions and concepts in clinical practice and updates in selected areas of research and practical application.

This year's Ruth Fox Course will focus on trauma and addiction. Presentations will review the many different forms of trauma—adolescent, sexual, PTSD, TBI, as well as psychiatric comorbidities. In addition, the course will explore neuropsychiatric imaging as it relates to addiction, TBI and other disorders. A presentation on trauma and addiction in the military will reveal some of the most recent findings on this timely topic.

Dynamic evidence-based presentations will be presented in a lecture format with slides and handouts. Learning will be enhanced by an interactive, case-based approach and a lively question and answer period will end the day-long exploration of trauma and addiction utilizing audience response technology.

Who Should Attend

The intended audience includes: addiction medicine physicians, psychiatrists, neurologists, psychologists, therapists, marriage and family therapists, addiction counselors, social workers, any health professional working with military or any health professional working with abused women, children or other trauma survivors.

Goals and Objectives

- ✓ Recognize the multiple forms of trauma and the many symptoms it can cause.
- ✓ Appreciate the place of spiritual work in the treatment of traumatic effects.
- ✓ Understand the need to modify conventional addiction treatment in the face of trauma.
- ✓ Realize the need to alter conventional treatment when TBI is layered on top of trauma.

Pain & Addiction Course: Common Threads XIV — “When Opiates Fail”

Thursday, April 25, 8:00 am - 5:30 pm

FDA statistics indicate that more than 33 million Americans, teens and older, misused extended-release and long-acting (ER/LA) opioids during 2007, up from 29 million in 2002. Yet these drugs have long been a major tool in the management of chronic pain or to help those who suffer from a painful injury or surgery. Highly effective yet highly addictive, the challenge posed by ER/LA opioids—patient assessment, prescribing guidelines, managing treatment and addressing alternatives when opiates fail—is the central issue of this year’s Pain & Addiction Course: Common Threads XIV.

In response to the growing epidemic of opiate abuse the FDA mandated, in July of 2012, new safety measures for ER/LA opioid medications. These measures emphasize education for prescribers and patients under the umbrella of a risk evaluation and mitigation strategy or REMS. The first half of this year’s Pain and Addiction Course will provide REMS training following the FDA blueprint with specific reference to those who specialize in addiction medicine. ASAM is a partner of the Collaboration for REMS Education (CO*RE) and CO*RE recently received approval from the REMS Program Committee for its national initiative.

In the afternoon sessions, experts in neuroscience, pain management and addiction medicine will discuss ER/LA opioid function, both general and specific properties of the various opioid products as well as new treatment technologies and complementary and alternative medicine approaches to pain management “when opiates fail.”

Utilizing dynamic media presentation tools, this critical content will be presented through a variety of formats including lecture, panel discussion, and interactive audience response technology.

Who Should Attend

The intended audience includes: addiction medicine physicians, psychiatrists, neurologists, psychologists, therapists, marriage and family therapists, addiction counselors, social workers, any health care professionals working with addiction, smoking cessation or pain management related issues.

Goals and Objectives

- ✓ Develop a working knowledge of how to assess patients for treatment with ER/LA opioid analgesics.
- ✓ Become familiar with how to initiate therapy, modify dose, and discontinue use of ER/LA opioid analgesics.
- ✓ Learn how to manage ongoing therapy with ER/LA opioid analgesics.
- ✓ Appreciate how to counsel patients and caregivers about the safe use of ER/LA opioid analgesics, including proper storage and disposal.
- ✓ Review general and product-specific drug information concerning ER/LA opioid analgesics.
- ✓ Survey recent research on the neuroscience understanding of the progression from sub-acute to chronic pain, and the potential for therapeutic interventions.
- ✓ Explore alternative interventional strategies to opioids as they relate to pain and addiction.
- ✓ Acquire an understanding of the interaction between tobacco use and pain states, and the current treatments of tobacco addiction.
- ✓ Understand the range of complementary and alternative modalities in the treatment of pain.

Join friends and colleagues for the gala grand opening of ASAM's 44th Annual Medical-Scientific Conference Exhibit Hall. Tour nearly one hundred exhibits and the largest collection of poster presentations assembled to date. The Exhibit Hall is the vibrant hub of networking activity throughout the conference. Visit the ASAM booth and discover a world of resources, publications and ASAM merchandise.

Session Descriptions

The powerful educational content at ASAM's Med-Sci Conference is presented in a variety of formats:

Plenary Sessions

Presented by leaders in the field and scheduled without competing sessions, Plenary Sessions are designed to bring information, insights and inspiration to all attendees at the Med-Sci Conference.

Symposia Sessions

Developed by experts in the field and the Scientific-Medical Program Committee, Symposia Sessions cover special topics, including specialized presentations organized and sponsored by the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism (NIAAA), the National Institute on Drug Abuse (NIDA) and the Center for Substance Abuse Treatment (CSAT). The topics and presenters are selected by Program Planning Committee's review of needs assessments for topics and selecting the presenters. All Symposia are two hours in length.

Course Sessions

Courses are typically presented in a lecture format and are structured, formal presentations that review basic concepts or offer new material in special areas including diagnostic approaches and specialized treatment areas, or translating research findings into practical clinical terms. Creative teaching methods are also encouraged and presenters usually include time for questions. All Courses are two hours in length.

Workshop Sessions

Workshops offer an interactive format that deal with topics and issues best handled informally in collaborative sessions of small groups. Workshops offer participants an opportunity for hands-on experience, utilizing cases and viewing of demonstrations, with an emphasis on audience participation in discussions, skill-building exercise, etc. Workshops should include the development of special skills, particular diagnostic or treatment problems, or other issues requiring the active exchange of ideas. All Workshops are two hours in length.

Component Sessions

ASAM Councils, Committees and Action Groups report on their activities and their concerns and obtain feedback from the ASAM members. All Component Sessions are two hours in length and will be held on Thursday evening of the conference.

Paper and Poster Presentations

Paper Presentations offer an opportunity to hear research findings or data on clinical experiences. All Paper Presentations are 15 minutes in length and have a five minute question and answer period. Accepted paper presentations will be displayed in ASAM's e-Live Learning Center.

Poster Presentations offer an opportunity to view the latest research and ideas in addiction medicine. Posters are set up and available for viewing in the Exhibit Hall during the entire conference. Poster authors will present their posters on Friday, April 26, from 12:30 – 2:30 pm. During this time attendees are encouraged to view the posters and engage with the authors.

Mutual Help Meetings

Held each morning and evening of the conference, Mutual Help Meetings are peer-run addiction problem-specific support group gatherings and are open to all participants.

8:00 pm – 10:00 pm

Component Session 1: Update on the ASAM Criteria: The Revision and Software

Speakers: David Mee-Lee, MD; David Gastfriend, MD; Paul Earley, MD FASAM; George Kolodner, MD; Marc Fishman, MD, FASAM

Component Session 2: Addressing Substance Use Disorders in Primary Care: How Can We Improve?

Speakers: Norm Wetterau, MD, FASAM; Paul Seale, MD; Abdel Fahmy, MD

Component Session 3: Maintenance of Certification in Addiction Medicine: What it Means for You, and How to Use Your Computer and the ABAM Diplomate Web Portal to Meet Maintenance of Certification Program Requirements
Speakers: Gavin Bart, MD, FACP, FASAM; Bob Sokol, MD; Lia Bennett, MPH; Margaret Jarvis, MD, FASAM

Component Session 4: Influencing Health Policy: ASAM Advocacy in 2013

Speakers: Alexis Horan, MPP, Kelly Clark, MD, MBA, FASAM

Component Session 5: Patient Access to Medication Assisted Treatment: Responding to State Access Limitations
Richard Soper, MD, JD, MS, FASAM, DABAM; Mark Kraus, MD, FASAM; Mark Publicker, MD, FASAM

Opening Scientific Plenary and R. Brinkley Smithers Distinguished Scientist Award and Lecture

“Symmetry and Asymmetry in Addiction Medicine: The Balance Between You, Your Patient, and Your Setting”

Joseph Westermeyer, MD, MPH, PhD

ASAM will honor Joseph Westermeyer, MD, PhD, MPH--this year's recipient of the R. Brinkley Smithers Distinguished Scientist Award. Dr. Westermeyer is being recognized for his continuing support of ASAM and his crucial role in guiding alcohol research in America.

Following presentation of the Award, Dr. Westermeyer will deliver his lecture, “Symmetry and Asymmetry in Addiction Medicine: The Balance Between You, Your Patient, and Your Setting,” in which he will argue that symmetry in clinician-patient and clinician-funder interactions supports patients' recoveries, while keeping the physician safe and sane. Asymmetric interactions, on the other hand, undermine relationships, can damage or impede recovery, and confuse or disturb the clinician. Beginning with the concepts originated by Martin Buber, Eric Berne, and E. Morton Jellinek, Dr. Westermeyer will explore methods for (1) recognizing symmetry and asymmetry in the care of addicted patients and (2) tactics and strategies for changing asymmetric relations to symmetry.

He will also discuss the experience of symmetric or asymmetric relationships with those who hire or fund us. Most common types of asymmetry are readily recognized. However, large third-party funders have begun displacing clinician-driven care (e.g., guided by the ASAM Criteria). Although these programmatic changes are often simple, well meaning, and based in one or another theory, their outcomes are often complex and unpredictable.

Finally, Dr. Westermeyer will underscore the inherent link in the symmetry with the patient and the symmetry with the funder. If these two relationships with the clinician do not coalesce, asymmetry defeats therapeutic goals and drains morale.

As Professor of Psychiatry and Adjunct Professor of Anthropology at the University of Minnesota in Minneapolis, Dr. Westermeyer is also a staff psychiatrist and Medical Director of the Addictive Disorders Service at the Minneapolis VA Medical Center.

In addition to his clinical practice at the Minneapolis VA Hospital, Dr. Westermeyer maintains an active research program, focusing on cross-cultural mental health issues. He has published over 100 articles, and he currently is on the editorial boards of several journals, including the American Journal of Drug and Alcohol Abuse, American Indian Alaska Native Mental Health Research, and World Cultural Psychiatry Research Review.

Celebrate the achievements of Dr. Joseph Westermeyer and be inspired by his thought-provoking lecture!

Policy Plenary Session: US Drug Crisis—The Addiction Treatment GapKeynote: H. Westley Clark, MD, JD, MPH, CAS, FASAM*Panelists: Scott Teitelbaum, MD, FAAP, FASAM; Mark Kraus, MD, FASAM; Kelly Clark, MD, MBA, DFAPA, FASAM; Stuart Gitlow, MD, MPH, MBA, FAPA; Michael Miller, MD, FASAM; Robert DuPont, MD, FASAM

The Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA) reports that over 20 million Americans aged 12 and older were classified with substance dependence or abuse in the last year and nearly 17 million Americans were classified with alcohol dependence or abuse. Barely four million received treatment. The gap between need and treatment is wide and it is not improving.

H. Westley Clark, MD, JD, MPH, CAS, FASAM will explore the Administration's efforts to address the addiction treatment gap in this country and the ways that physicians can work with federal partners like SAMHSA to expand access to treatment. Dr. Clark and a panel of policy experts will also discuss the addiction treatment workforce, particularly in light of the expansion of benefits under the Affordable Care Act.

As Director of the Center for Substance Abuse Treatment at SAMHSA, Dr. Clark he leads the agency's national effort to provide effective and accessible treatment to all Americans with addictive disorders. Dr. Clark is a noted author and educator in substance abuse treatment, anger and pain management, psychopharmacology, and medical and legal issues.

ASAM's Annual Public Policy Plenary explores federal and state public policies that affect the research, education, prevention and treatment efforts of addiction medicine practitioners.

ASAM Annual Awards Luncheon

Saturday, April 27, 12:00 pm – 2:00 pm

Celebrate distinguished leaders in the field of addiction medicine at the Annual ASAM Awards Luncheon. This plated luncheon is an opportunity to network with colleagues, draw inspiration from outstanding accomplishments and welcome new Diplomates, who have successfully passed the ABAM Examination of Certification in Addiction Medicine.

Nora Volkow, MD, recipient of the John P. McGovern Award, will address the gathering with the Lecture on Addiction and Society. The John P. McGovern MD Award and Lecture on Addiction and Society was established in 1997 to recognize and honor an individual who has made highly meritorious contributions to public policy, treatment, research, or prevention which has increased our understanding of the relationship of addiction and society. The Award is sponsored by an endowment from the John P. McGovern Foundation.

Dr. Volkow became Director of the National Institute on Drug Abuse (NIDA) at the National Institutes of Health in May 2003. Her work has been instrumental in demonstrating that drug addiction is a disease of the human brain. As a research psychiatrist and scientist, Dr. Volkow pioneered the use of brain imaging to investigate the toxic effects and addictive properties of abusable drugs. Her studies have documented changes in the dopamine system affecting, among others, the functions of frontal brain regions involved with motivation, drive, and pleasure in addiction. She has also made important contributions to the neurobiology of obesity, ADHD, and aging.

The R. Brinkley Smithers Distinguished Scientist Lecture Award

Joseph Westermeyer, MD, MPH, PhD
(See page 12 for details)

Public Policy Award

“For outstanding contribution in advancing addiction treatment policy”

H. Westley Clark, MD, JD, MPH, CAS, FASAM

Young Investigator Award

Kay Russos-Ross, MD

“For the best abstract submitted by an author who is within five years receipt of a doctoral degree”

Paper: “Increasing Trends in Neo-Natal Abstinence Syndrome, What is the Cost?”

Medical-Scientific Program Committee Award

Timothy Wiegand, MD

“For the abstract receiving the highest rating for its scientific merit”

Paper: “Addiction Training During Medical Toxicology Fellowship”

Annual Award

Carlton Erickson, PhD

“For expanding the frontiers of the field of addiction medicine and broadening our understanding of the addiction process, through research and innovation”

Annual Award

Mike Miller, MD, FASAM

“For outstanding contributions to the growth and vitality of our Society, for thoughtful leadership in the field, and for deep understanding of the art and science of addiction medicine”

ASAM Media Award

TBA

CONTINUING EDUCATION CREDIT INFORMATION

ACCREDITATION COUNCIL FOR CONTINUING MEDICAL EDUCATION (ACCME)

The American Society of Addiction Medicine (ASAM) is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to provide continuing medical education for physicians. ASAM designates this live activity for a maximum of 21 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits (s)[™]. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

AMERICAN PSYCHOLOGICAL ASSOCIATION (APA)

The American Society of Addiction Medicine (ASAM's) Continuing Medical Education (CME) has been approved for renewal of certification by the APA College of Professional Psychology. ASAM CME credits may be applied toward the APA's "Certificate of Proficiency in the Treatment of Alcohol and Other Psychoactive Substance Use Disorders."

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF ALCOHOLISM AND DRUG ABUSE COUNSELORS (NAADAC)

ASAM has been approved as a National Association of Alcoholism and Drug Abuse Counselors (NAADAC) Education Provider, #152. All applying for NAADAC credit should report their hours directly to NAADAC.

AMERICAN ACADEMY OF FAMILY PHYSICIANS

Selected sessions have been identified as of interest and value to primary care physicians. Application has been made to the American Academy of Family Physicians for Live Prescribed Credit.

CONTINUING EDUCATION CREDITS (CEUs)

Non-physician participants will receive a certificate of attendance upon completion of the activity and an on-line evaluation confirming their participation. Participants should submit his/her certificate of attendance to their professional organization/institute.

CME COMMITTEE, PROGRAM PLANNING COMMITTEE AND FACULTY DISCLOSURE INFORMATION

In accordance with the disclosure policies of the American Society of Addiction Medicine (ASAM) and the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME), the effort is made to ensure balance, independence, objectivity, and scientific rigor in all educational activities. These policies include resolving all conflicts of interest between the CME Committee, planning committee and faculty, and commercial interests that might otherwise compromise the goal and educational integrity of this activity. All planning committee members and faculty participating in the activity have disclosed all relevant financial relationships with commercial interests. The ASAM CME Committee has reviewed these disclosures and determined that the planning committee and faculty relationships are not inappropriate in the context of their respective presentations and are not inconsistent with the educational goals and integrity of the activity.

All Active Membership Categories (other than Retired) must maintain a valid active allopathic or osteopathic medical license or certification of residency, fellowship, or student status. A valid active medical license is one issued by the appropriate agency and certifies that a physician is permitted to practice medicine within that country, province, or state. ASAM considers a medical license to be valid where stipulations and/or conditions have been placed on the license. The society shall not consider a license to be valid if it has been revoked, suspended, surrendered, or made subject to a sanction similar or equivalent to revocation, suspension, or surrender until such time as 1) the physician has notified ASAM that the sanction has expired or been removed, and 2) ASAM has confirmed the expiration or removal of the sanction with the state licensing board. These provisions shall apply equally to all licenses held by a physician. All active members shall submit the required dues and license certification at the time of joining or forfeit membership.

- Regular $455 — Licensed to practice allopathic or osteopathic medicine in the US.

ASAM's e-Live Learning Center

Over 200 Hours of CME Ready When You Are!

e-LLC Access and Full Conference Registrant Benefits: Full conference registrants of the 2013 ASAM 44th Annual Medical-Scientific Conference receive complimentary access to the recorded sessions following the conference. Full registrants of the Pre-Conferences; Ruth Fox and Pain and Addiction also get complimentary access to their respective conferences. Prior and during the conference, registrants also receive complimentary access to all session materials for printing in advance for review and note taking. Handouts (PDF, PPT) are viewable (not saveable) within iPhones and iPads. In order to save a handout, use "Documents To Go" or a similar app. Otherwise, please save these documents on your laptop.

Note: The content for the 2013 Med-Sci and Pre-Conferences is made available at no cost to registrants of the "live" courses as an added benefit of registration. Partial conference registrants or people who are unable to attend the "live" course(s) may purchase and view these courses after the courses 24/7 on the e-Live Learning Center.

CME Certificates: CME certificates for past and future courses are available on the e-LLC. You can print your certificate onsite at a "Live" conference using one of the Internet Cafes or from the convenience of your home or office when returning from the conference. Note: A short overall evaluation of "Live" courses(s) is mandatory. You will not see the total hours on your certificate unless the evaluation is complete.

Additional e-LLC Offerings: Most ASAM live courses (from 2011 - 2012) have been captured digitally and are available 24/7 online in the ASAM e-Live Learning Center. Course programming can be viewed through a computer. Note: The 2012 Review Course and 2013 Med-Sci, Ruth Fox and Pain & Addiction Courses will also be available for viewing on the iPad, other tablets and most other mobile devices via audio-synchronized PowerPoint™ presentations.

How to Access the e-Live Learning Center:

The e-LLC is your online portal to education content in addiction medicine! It is the next-best thing to attending a session or course in person. For a full listing of e-LLC content, visit www.asam.org and click on the e-Live Learning Center button located on the ASAM website home page. The e-Live Learning Center contains captured content from the past year and a half from "Live" ASAM Courses. It also contains sessions to watch free of charge, including sessions on SBIRT, and Coding and Billing, and many others.
